Hopefully, you have already noticed the significant improvements to the porch as you entered the church today. There are new lights in the porch, again LED extremely low power and yet extremely bright too. They should not need a new bulb for twenty-five years!! As only two rooms in the house even have lampshades, I am also having LED fitted in the house where possible. The reduced electricity bills will be a bonus for us in years to come. The porch has also been repainted and the woodwork cleaned and re-varnished.

From now on we will not allow any posters etc. to be stuck to the walls of the porch. All posters / adverts must always be attached to a noticeboard. No exceptions. I hope you will agree this is a reasonable rule. The porch has been tidied up and cleared of things we do not need—I hope we will keep it that way.
I am seeking to find a way of removing Blu-Tack from the bricks inside the church which are filthy from bits of that ingrained in the brick. Hence again the rule—no Blu-Tack ever please.
